Opening doors to UC Davis

Dear Student, Parent or Friend of Student,

I am excited to share the news of another exceptional quarter at UC Davis. As the semester draws to a close, I look forward to sharing highlights of the past few months with you.

Notably, we have celebrated the academic achievements of our students through various events, including the annual Black Graduation ceremony. These milestones reflect the hard work and dedication of our students, faculty, and staff.

We have also focused on diversity and inclusion, recognizing the importance of creating a welcoming environment for all. This includes initiatives focused on supporting underrepresented students, such as the African American Student Success (CADSS) program.

In honor of Black History Month, we held a dynamic Speakers Series event featuring Kamaal Thomas, an international relations and economics double major. The event aimed to inspire students and foster a community of learning and growth.

I encourage you to stay connected with us, as we continue to focus on the well-being and success of our students. Whether you are attending UC Davis or thinking of joining us, we are committed to providing a supportive and nurturing environment.

Sincerely,
Emily Galindo
Executive Director for Associate Vice Chancellor

A look back at the spring quarter

In this edition of the newsletter, we will provide updates on various initiatives and events that took place during the spring quarter. These include the annual College Day, which showcased the diversity and achievements of our campus.

We will also highlight upcoming events, such as the groundbreaking for the new student housing complex and the inauguration of the new chancellor.

Don't miss our special edition dedicated to the experiences of students of color. This edition will feature stories of resilience, achievement, and the importance of community.

Stay tuned for more information on these and other exciting developments at UC Davis.

Sincerely,
Emily Galindo
